Standards and references

- Fence and guardrail systems should be reviewed by project drawings, installation method and local safety requirements.
- Hot-dip galvanizing can be specified according to ISO 1461 or ASTM A123/A123M when a coating reference is required.
- Powder coating color, PVC coating, posts, gates, clips and fasteners should follow the approved layout.
- Final specification should follow project drawings, local codes and buyer approval documents.
